REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. Claims 1-17 and 21-25 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As to Claim 1, the prior art of record to Suzuki et al. (US 6,000,894) discloses a bookbinding system (Figure 2, bookbinding apparatus 203) for binding sheets into bound text bodies (Figure 9, sheet bundle S1) having respective spines exposed for adhesive application, the system comprising a sheet collector (Figure 1, aligning tray 41) configured to assemble a text body from multiple sheets and an adhesive dispenser (Figure 4, carriage C, tape reels 77A and 77B; Figure 11A, tape guides 86 and 87) configured to dispense a solid adhesive sheet having one of multiple effective widths sized to correspond substantially to the length dimension of the spine of the text body (column 10, line 6 through column 11, line 17) and positioned to receive the assembled text body from the sheet collector after the solid adhesive sheet has been dispensed (Figure 11B). The prior art of record to Sharpe (US 2,788,852) discloses an apparatus which includes a sheet material dispenser configured to dispense a sheet material (Figures 1 and 2, pressure sensitive adhesive tape 30) having one of multiple effective widths (column 2, lines 37-40) which would be capable of dispensing a solid adhesive sheet across the thickness dimension of a text body spine. The prior art of record to McLane (US 3,296,911) discloses an apparatus which includes a sheet material dispenser configured to dispense a sheet material (Figures 1, material 30) having one of multiple effective widths (column 3, lines 58-61) which would be capable of dispensing a solid adhesive sheet across the thickness dimension of a text body spine. The prior art of record does not disclose or provide any motivation for modifying the adhesive dispenser of Suzuki et al. to receive an assembled text body from the sheet collector and then dispense an adhesive sheet across the thickness dimension of the text body spine such that the adhesive sheet has one of multiple effective widths sized to correspond substantially to the length dimension of the spine of the text body

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
